

Denver favorite playwright José Cruz González returns with another heartwarming story about families and friendships! Lucha and Boli are ready to start their own all-female mariachi band in 1970s' Denver and the only things standing in their way are a male-dominated genre, patriarchal pressure from their families and finding the right women to fill out their sound. This humorous, heartwarming story includes gorgeous live mariachi music.

January 26 – February 25
STAGE THEATRE – Denver Performing Arts Complex

TICKETS ONLY $35! (value $60-$80)

A PORTION OF EVERY TICKET SOLD WILL BENEFIT ALL
DPS SCHOOLS THROUGH THE DPS FOUNDATION

Visit dpsfoundation.org/offers to learn more.

DENVER CENTER FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS

